This Week:

Dear Parents & Carers

I heard something extraordinary this week, something I have never heard from a Year six child on day three of SATs week (two maths papers).

“..this is the best school day ever!”

This about sums up the fantastic way the Year six children have approached these tests. Their calm manner before and after has been the perfect foil to their determined concentration during the papers. All of the team here involved in supporting them this week, have been incredibly impressed with the children’s attitude, focus and behaviour. So well done to the fab thirteen, you have done yourselves proud.

Phoenix have been out and about again, exploring our local communities, which is leading to some wonderful writing in class, so well done to the children and to Ms Windsor for organising such interesting things for the children to get up to.

Further communication from UK Power Networks states that they have put in place a generator for Monday 15th May, meaning that the school will have power between 08:00 and 15:00. On this basis, we are pleased to confirm that the school will be open on Monday as usual.

My apologies for any inconvenience caused.

Have a wonderful weekend.
